Known for her positivity and courage, Talia learned she was named an Honorary COVERGIRL from Ellen on The Ellen DeGeneres Show

Talia continues to post videos on her YouTube channel and has also established a wide following on Twitter and Instagram. She is known for her positive outlook on life and continues to be an inspiration to all! Check out some of Talia's videos at youtube.com/covergirl

Talia Joy Castellano has proven that absolutely nothing can stand in her way! At only 13 years old, Talia is achieving her dreams of becoming a celebrity makeup artist while battling not one—but TWO forms of aggressive cancer (neuroblastoma and pre-leukemia).

Despite her hardships, Talia has quickly become an internet sensation by creating a YouTube channel where she shares beauty tutorials and tips. Each tutorial gets around 75,000 clicks and her YouTube page has been viewed over 14.5 million times!

This year, Talia mentioned in one of her videos that she always wanted to meet COVERGIRL Ellen DeGeneres, and on September 13th that dream became a reality when Ellen invited her to The Ellen DeGeneres Show. During the episode, Ellen revealed that her positivity and ambitious personality had caught the attention of the COVERGIRL brand and that Ellen would be making her an Honorary COVERGIRL. In addition, Ellen revealed that the beauty brand had sent a makeup table, cosmetics, and a $20,000 check to help Talia achieve her dreams.

Love, love, love this!!! Please Click, Like, Share, Comment and Pray! Thanks TheTruth365 for sharing our Angel's story. Kick cancer's butt Talia!!!

Let's face it...13-year-old Talia Castellano is a walking talking miracle. When we interviewed her for The Truth 365 film last June she was stable with only a tiny area of cancer remaining. A few weeks later she relapsed and then was diagnosed with a secondary cancer. A lot has changed in Talia's life since then - The Ellen Show, CoverGirl, iHeartRadio and now People Magazine (on sale starting Friday). But what hasn't changed is her attitude. This kid is the most intense human I think I have ever met. Sure, she has a bubbly side of her personality that comes through in her YouTube videos. But there is another Talia that not many people ever see. This is the cancer fighting Talia...defiant and determined. I would rather face ten Hells Angels in a dark alley than go up against Talia in her cancer fighting mode. I believe her attitude of defiance has helped her in this battle.

She doesn't let the words "retreat" or "defeat" enter her mind. She also is very fortunate to have an incredible support system of friends and family as well as a great team of doctors and nurses that truly love her. Add in the prayers from hundreds of thousands of supporters on Facebook, YouTube, Instagram, Twitter and other social media platforms and you see that she has a great foundation from which to wage war against childhood cancer.

Talia just got out of the hospital today so please pray that her health continues to improve. We have a feeling that God has few more miracles up His sleeve! –Mike
